A solution to help you monitor data protection in your school

GDPR in Schools (GDPRiS) is a cloud-based, data protection monitoring solution for schools.

It provides Data Protection Officers (DPOs), IT managers, senior leaders, teaching staff and third party data processors in schools, with an intuitive system to help them simplify data protection management and processes.

GDPRiS also helps schools meet and exceed the new General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR).

Why choose GDPR in schools?

Whole-school approach to data protection

Powerful tools will provide all staff with a new level of data protection understanding. It will guide them through documenting data flows, mapping and auditing of personal data, guidance on reporting breaches, training and documentation, and prompts the use of self-assessment questionnaires (SAQs).

Working together towards GDPR compliance

Schools can select the suppliers they use to process data from the Supplier Product Directory to find out if they are GDPR compliant. The directory is pre-populated and maintained by the suppliers through data mapping and providing necessary documentation.

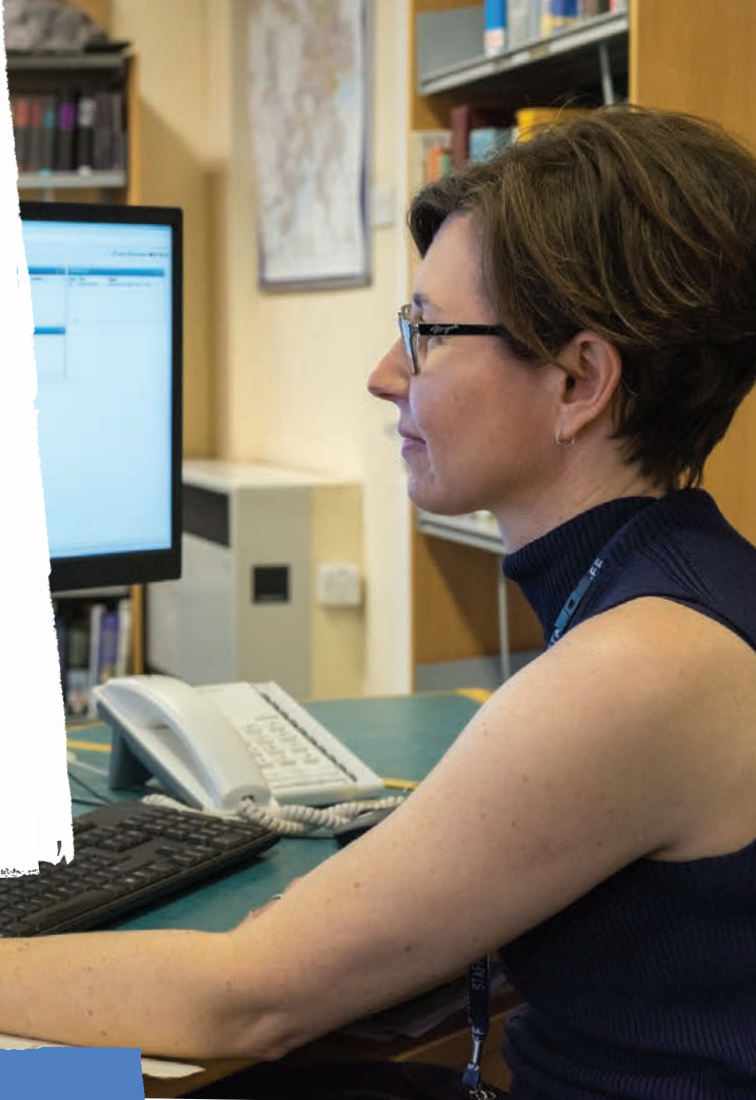

Demonstrate and evidence

Comprehensive auditing tools help evidence a proactive approach to accountability in data management. Intuitive reporting and tracking enable you to take early action to manage potential data breaches and streamlined processes allow you to monitor and evidence all procedures for further evaluation.

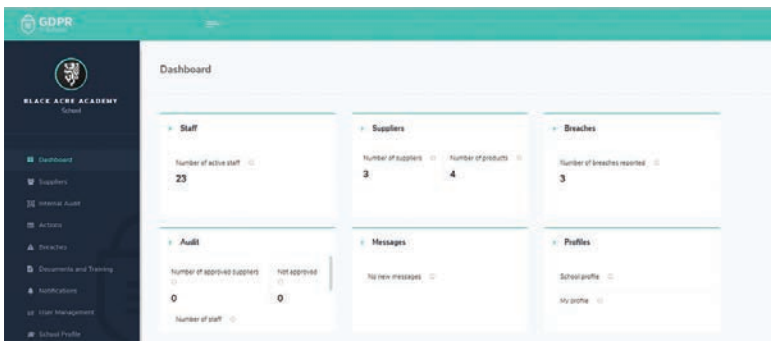

Designed with schools in mind

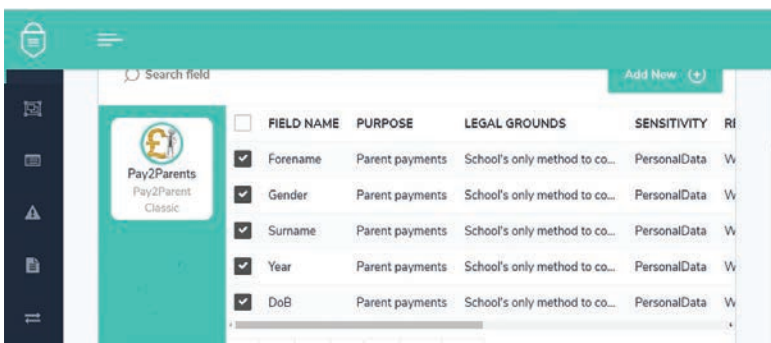

GDPRiS has been designed with schools in mind, designed to be as simple and intuitive as possible ensuring it is easy to use and making it an invaluable tool for schools looking to achieve full GDPR compliance.

Your questions answered

How do schools ensure full accountability of their staff?

Every member of staff, whether they are teachers, governors, admin or facilities and catering staff can be issued with an online Self-Assessment Questionnaire (SAQ) to ensure full accountability and understanding.

How does the GDPRiS supplier product directory work?

The supplier maintains a specification of data that they use from the MIS system and other sources for each of their products which then forms the GDPRiS supplier product directory. Schools can choose which suppliers they use from this directory to complete their GDPR compliance picture.

Can GDPRiS provide information on GDPR?

There is practical guidance on GDPR stored within the GDPRiS system for schools to access and seek guidance on any issues they may face.

Does having GDPRiS mean our school is GDPR compliant?

Having a system like GDPRiS in your school doesn't mean you are fully GDPR compliant. However it does mean you'll be able to demonstrate you're meeting certain GDPR requirements. For more information on the regulations please visit the ICO website.

Who benefits and how?

Ensuring data protection regulations are adhered to is the responsibility of all staff across your school.

ALL STAFF ACROSS THE SCHOOL CAN...

- Demonstrate they are complying to the new GDPR regulations
- Ensure they are up to date with data protection policies
- Demonstrate commitment to manage data sensitivity and ethically
- Prompt good practice around data protection
